

Figure. Chest X-ray showed profuse, multifocal, poorly defined consolidations predominantly localized in the upper, middle lung lobes, and a ground-glass appearance was observed in the lower lobes, concomitant with tracheal deviation towards the right.